The Ridge Spec Home is a contemporary single-level residence designed with clean lines, open living spaces, and an efficient, well-balanced layout. The main floor features 9-foot ceilings, enhancing natural light and creating a bright, welcoming atmosphere throughout the home. An open-concept great room connects the kitchen, dining, and living areas beneath a vaulted ceiling, providing a sense of openness and comfort ideal for everyday living and entertaining. The plan includes three bedrooms, highlighted by a private primary suite, along with practical spaces such as a pantry, laundry, and ample storage. A full-height basement offers flexibility for future expansion, additional living space, or recreational use, while the attached two-car garage and covered front and rear porches complete the home's functional design. Overall, The Ridge Spec Home balances modern style, build efficiency, and livability, making it an excellent option for a primary residence or spec-home investment.
